Franklin County Commissioner Paula Brooks Briefing on Sexual Assault Prevention

On Monday, January 26th at 2:00 PM, Commissioner Paula Brooks begins a “Stopping Sexual Assault for Everyone” (SSAFE) discussion. She will meet with and listen to experts at the Sexual Assault Response Network of Central Ohio (SARNCO) to receive a briefing update on sexual assault trends in central Ohio.

“I look forward to hearing from our partners in fighting the spread of sexual assault. While we want to press hard for convictions, I am here today to get actionable strategic information about how we keep all women and all of our girls safe and stop this violence ... and prevent it”.

Commissioner Brooks began her career tackling these and other issues as Director of the Women’s Law Project and Special Assistant to the Ohio Attorney General. Further details can be found at:
