FRANKLIN COUNTY EXPERIENCING A PLANNED EVACUATION DRILL

WHAT: A planned evacuation drill is currently being conducted by the Columbus Fire Department and Franklin County Public Facilities Management at the Franklin County Courthouse

WHEN: Wednesday, June 18, 2014
10 a.m.

WHERE: 373 S. High Street
(This building is located between the Franklin County Municipal Court and the Hall of Justice buildings)

DETAILS: At 10 a.m. today, the Franklin County Courthouse, located at 373 S. High St., began a planned emergency evacuation drill. The 26-floor high rise building is currently being completely evacuated.

Today's drill is part of an on-going, comprehensive safety program to educate and prepare County employees on the proper evacuation procedures at County buildings in the event of an emergency.
